

Grandparents - Second Time Around!

Free education and support group for Grandparents raising Grandchildren.

Today's grandparents raising grandchildren are facing social, emotional, and environmental concerns that were not present when raising their own children.

This Support Group

...is open to any grandparent who finds themselves in the unique situation of caring for their grandchildren

...provides a safe, confidential place to share experiences and connect with others going through similar experiences

...facilitates discussions on family relations, health and medical concerns, parenting and discipline, and financial concerns, etc.

...helps navigate the legal, medical, school, and community based supports.
